The team has not encountered anything that has outclassed it. It has broken even on foreign grounds and has, in fact, outplayed its rivals and displayed a far superior class of pitching. The time is not far off when this will be demonstrated, for there will time be a great improvement. will be demonstrated, for there will in due time be a great improvement in the offensive strength of the Na-tionals, batting wakness having been the only slump which the team has en-countered to date.

Joe Boehling pitched a masterly game of ball in the morning victory at Boston. Most of the time he had command and managed to hold the Red Sox in check until the eighth, when Hooper's double and Janvrin's single opened the way for a single run, which put the champions in a way to be dangerous. But Boehling recovered his balance, got out of the hole and then retired the home team in order.

BY J. ED GRILLO.

The Griffmen broke even on their first eastern trip, winning three games and losing an equal number. There is much satisfaction in the fact that the teams with which the Nationals played have been touted as certain winners in the present race. Neither, however, figures to have a chance, judged on the showing they made in the games with the Griffmen. New York has a ball team which is apt to win a lot of games from the Athletics, but it will not beat any other teams.

After watching the Griffmen in the six games they have played one cannot get away from the fact that if the Yankees and Red Sox have a chance to finish on top there is also a good chance for the Washington aggregation.

The team has not encountered anything that has outclassed it. It has thing that has outclassed it.

Bill Donovan's Yankees will be here today to open the local season, when the first of a four-game series will be played.

The game was called for 2 o'clock.

Eddle Foster continues to play marvelous ball at third. It is remarkable the amount of ground he covers to either side and the accuracy which marks his throwing. Foster is not going to have a hard time this season leading the American League third basemen. He is by far ahead of them all.

teired the home team in order.

Left-handed pitchers are a bane to the champions of the world. They did ttle or nothing with Harper and they iso lost to Boehling. The Carrigan in New York, when he was beaten by process are going to have a rough pashage through the league this year, for the clubs that have left-handers are unlikely that Johnson will pitch two unlikely that Johnson will pitch two
